Botanical Extracts

Sustainably Sourced, Naturally Derived
Extracts for Personal Care and Cosmetics Formulations

Harness the power of nature

For generations, natural botanical extracts have been widely used in personal care and cosmetics formulations to support the health, texture and integrity of the skin, hair and nails. The ever-expanding portfolio of botanical extracts produced by Advancion in the U.S. use the traditional method of aqueous extraction and are specifically formulated for use in personal care and cosmetics products. In addition, Advancion offers custom sourcing, blending and extraction methods for all botanical extracts, including glycerin, organic glycerin and other solvents. Advancion botanical extracts are made from sustainably sourced, organic plant materials backed by a fully documented and traceable quality system.
